Out & About In Our Local Community

Wonderful Outings

The month of January is often a time for reflection and review after all the excitement and celebrations of the Christmas season. This was no different for our residents, who recently gathered together for coffee at our local coffee shop, Miller's Coffee House. It was a lovely afternoon filled with tea, coffee, cakes, and lively conversations. Our residents enjoyed catching up with each other and putting the world to right.

Recent Activities

Creative Creations!

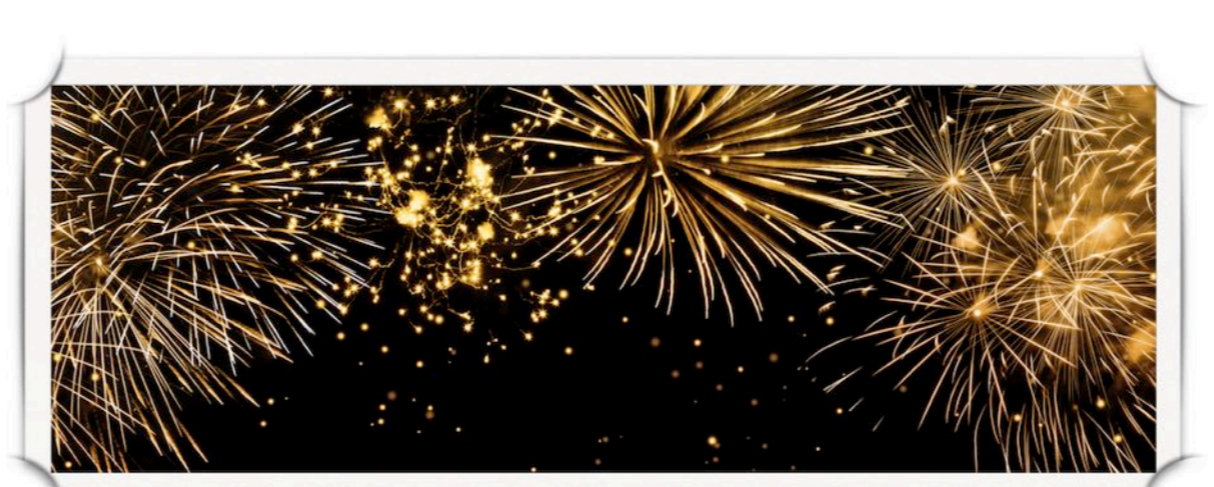

As we approach the end of January, our residents are now looking forward to the spring season. They have already started working on various arts and crafts projects to create some beautiful spring-themed decorations.

One of the newest activities we've started offering our residents is ukulele lessons. Sylvia, a talented musician and teacher, visits our home weekly to teach our residents how to play this fun and popular instrument. Following the successful Christmas show, many of our residents are excited to learn how to play the ukulele. It's fantastic to see their enthusiasm and willingness to try new things.

New Year Celebrations

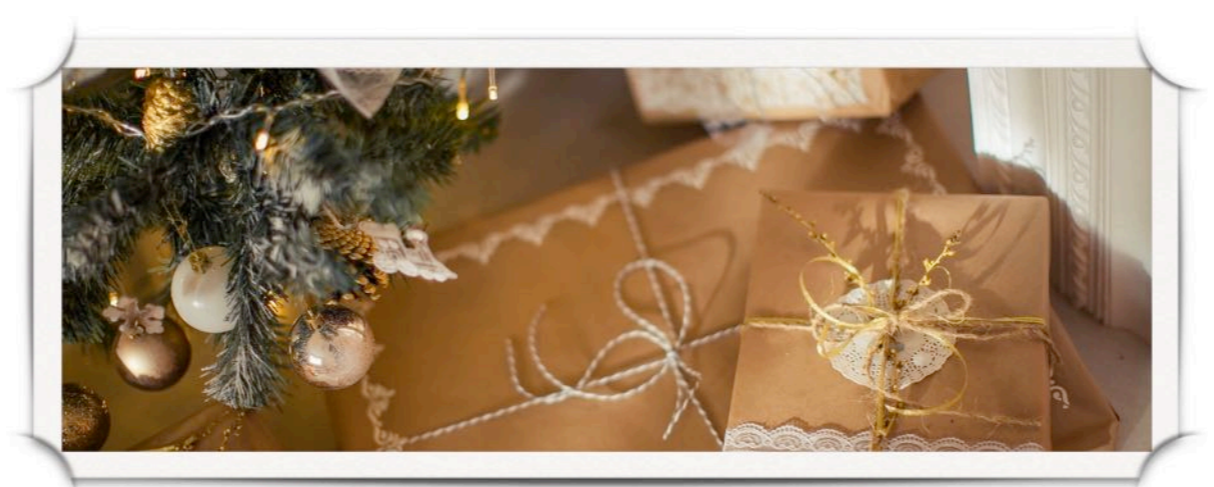

New Beginnings

We had a New Year Party to ring out the old year and bring in the new. Our residents and families had a wonderful time with plenty of treats and a few glasses of their favourite tipple.

Special Visitor

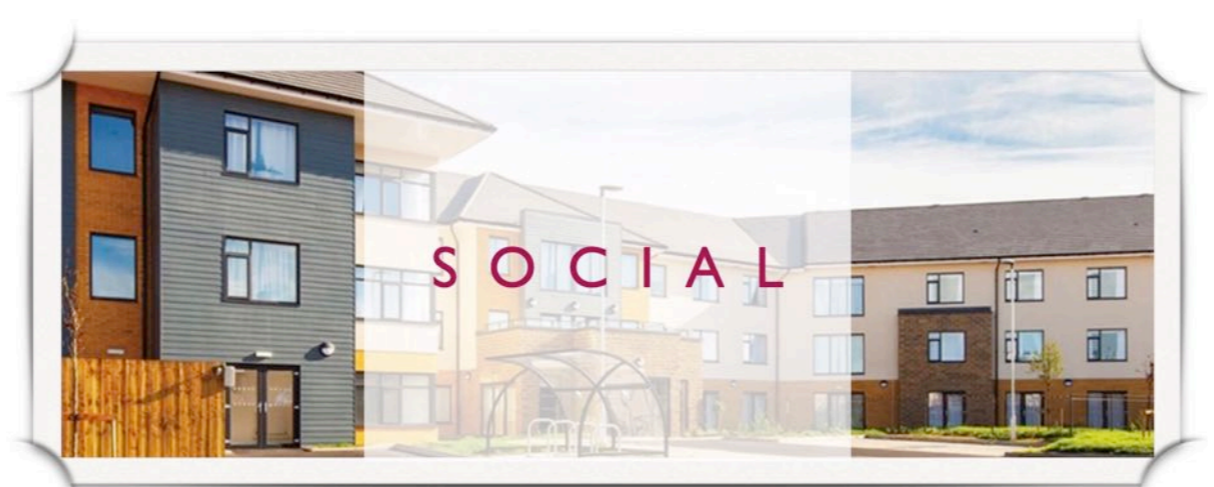

Christmas Spirit

Finally, we can't forget to mention the surprise visit we had from Santa and his helper on Christmas Day. Santa stopped by our home in the morning after his busy night delivering presents to our residents. It was a magical moment that brought plenty of smiles, surprises, and delights. Our residents were thrilled to see Santa and receive their gifts, and it was a wonderful way to start off the Christmas Day celebrations.
